

We are continuing to receive LOTS of enquiries for Veterinary Nursing and the two “VET in Schools” courses!

If you are interested in studying with us contact Liz at WoofPurNay – 97968266

Tawny discovers Vet Nursing is mainly about cleaning!

The Veterinary Nursing students have been very busy signing off on a variety of tasks! - Liz has been chasing students to have all assessments completed!

Dr Bany has lead them through some of the intricacies of Pathology so they now know how to interpret various body samples through a microscope!

Melissa D and Tawny have had attacks of tonsilitis, so have not been feeling well.

Melissa D & Dr Bany discuss the intricacies of Pathology

Irma has completed the Introductory section of her training & now progresses into Veterinary Nursing training

VET in SCHOOLS Animal Studies

Our ten Certificate II Animal Studies students are currently learning about Daily Clinic Routines within an Animal care environment.

Students have the opportunity to observe Veterinarians doing consultation and surgical procedures. As well as assisting in basic animal treatments, such as administering medications.

Next week the students will be completing their Certificate I in First Aid, with a MICA paramedic coming to the clinic to give them a talk and demonstrate basic life support.

Shae (St Peters) does a brilliant grooming job

VET in Schools – Equine Industry – students are flat out completing the Work Requirement Project for the VCE. The subject is Nutrition, and they have had some brilliant opportunities – especially at the Equine Expo – to gain the required information.

A BIG thanks to the students who helped out at the Equine Expo, and to those who did extra work in the stables during Debs absence.

Melissa R (Maranatha) is one of the stable stars. Seen here assisting a client.

